I am writing to recommend Sarah Anthony for a possible teaching position in your district. Ever since the start of the school year she has been ambitious, professional, and excellent with students. I observed that she is willing to take on new challenges to impart instructions and create an excellent class room environment. Her instructional methods are quite creative and infused with technology.

She is contributing immensely to our school by developing core curriculum and providing instructional support which are both futuristic in nature and conform to our International Baccalaureate standards.

What I found to be one of Ms. Anthony's best assets is her ability to utilize appropriate language and positive discipline to manage effective interactions with her students. As a model of appropriate behavior, she is in a league of her own and can provide extra instructional support based on individual student assessments.

Every aspect of her teaching is innovative to say the least; instruction, assessment, interaction, communication, documentation, administration and classroom management are just some of her areas of expertise as far as teaching is concerned and this has been noted even at this half-way point in her student teaching.

In addition, Ms. Anthony took the initiative to invite me into her classroom at the beginning of her student teaching experience and asked to be critiqued. Also, she met with the principal and me to discuss ways that we could use social media to promote our school, our district, and our many activities. She never hesitates when asked to do extra duties for the school. I am confident that she would contribute effectively to your school and district. I recommend Ms. Anthony without reservation. Please don't hesitate to call or email if you have any questions
